Movie explores an American realistic side from the genre? I'd say you'll find a more haunting Ethan Sandler movie.

The Australian Open is one of the four Grand Slam tennis tournaments. It was first held in 1905 and since then has attracted some of the best players in the world. It is held over two weeks - usually in the first week of January and ending with a final normally two months later.

The Australian Open is held at four different venues in Melbourne Park, all of which are connected by walkways. These venues include the Rod Laver Arena, the Hisense Arena and the Sydney Olympic Stadium. The Rod Laver Arena was the main venue for the tournament which has a capacity for around 15,000 spectators. The Hisense Arena is also a very nice stadium and is blue - this makes it a very nice stadium but ideal for aggressive players.

The tournament has five categories of competition: men's singles, women's singles, men's doubles, women's doubles and mixed doubles. Each discipline has a main draw and a qualifying draw.
