Donald J. DeFeo Jr. and his wife, a Newsday reporter, told police that he arrived shortly after 10 p.m. and found the front door unlocked. He claimed he and his wife crawled into the house through a window and found the bodies of the three children and their mother, a 39-year-old woman, in the living room. The family was from Amityville, a town in Suffolk County, New York, known for the Amityville Horror. The story behind the family massacre is a true story.

But when Columbus and his companions reached the Americas, they landed at a Hispaniola outpost where Columbus had left nearly 40 men from his 1492 voyage of discovery. He returned to find all of those men dead, perhaps killed by the local Taino people.
