The game Americans call "Mexican Train" is originally a variation on the Chinese game called Pai Gow, which means "make nine", and uses 32 tiles or dominoes! Pai Gow predates the game's arrival in the United States by an estimated 1,000 years. It is believed to have originated in China during the Song Dynasty, which began in 960 A/D. Why is it called Mexican Train? The game was introduced to the United States by Mexican immigrants in the late 19th century. It is a popular game in the Mexican community in the United States.
