Arqueological evidence found in Jordan that dates around 6000 BCE. The game might have been played by ancient Nabataeans at the Dead Sea; the site is located in the southern part of the Dead Sea basin. The game was discovered by a team of archaeologists from the University of Jordan and the British Museum. The game is a board game with a grid and pieces. It is believed to be a form of the game of Go. The game is played on a board with a grid of squares. The pieces are placed on the squares. The game is played by two players. The player who moves first is called the White player. The player who moves second is called the Black player. The game is played until one player has no more pieces left. The player who has no more pieces left is the loser. The game is played on a board with a grid of squares. The pieces are placed on the squares. The game is played by two players.
